

From the President's Pen

I am glad to say that we will be holding another Educational Meeting for October, on the 13th in Jones Hall. Vern will provide the details of the educational portion within his write up. So to ensure I don't steal any of his thunder; you will just have to read even more of the bulletin! Although I was unable to attend September's Educational Meeting due to business travel, but I was so happy to hear that there were a number of people present to enjoy the meeting. I was lucky enough to enjoy some of the 60th Anniversary cake, and I have to say it was absolutely delicious!

Last month was our first attempt at using Zoom as a means of presenting our Educational Meeting to folks at home. I was informed that the audio was a bit low and could not be heard over the Zoom meeting, video appeared to not have any issues. Jim and I have a plan to get this corrected, and will connect the PA audio output straight into the PC to improve the audio input to Zoom. So, if you would like to attend our Educational Meeting once again via Zoom, please do keep an eye out for the meeting information that will be provided by Florence in the near future.

Many of us are going to go running around Topaz Mt. by the time you read this. I do hope many of you get the opportunity to do the same, although if I don't see you there, then perhaps at our next Educational Meeting. Take care of yourselves and see you all in the near future.

— Glenn Fiala

Vice President's Corner

October's Educational Meeting guest speaker is member Fran Todd. Fran is one of our cabochon instructors on Wednesday evenings in our Lapidary Shop. Fran Todd has been cutting Opals for about forty years. She will be reviewing some basic information on Opals and share some of her recent treasure finds, which she will bring to display with her presentation. I hope you mark your calendars, and attend this meeting, as this is one of Fran's passions to share with our club.

Rookie Rock Roller News

The Rookies will meet at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, October 13, 2020 in Jones Hall at the Fairgrounds. Enter on Event Center Drive.

At our last meeting, we learned about meteors, meteoroids, and meteorites. Then we made meteorite detectors and used them outside to hunt for meteorites. Jim Hutchings brought many samples of different types. The Rookies tested their streak to determine what kind of meteorite we had.

At our October meeting, we will learn about the geologic time-line. Then we will crack open the sedimentary jars we made at our January meeting. The juniors' favorite activity is pounding rocks. We will be wearing masks and trying to keep our distance where possible.

I sure hope to see you all there.

CFMS SCHOLARSHIP 2020 HONOREE

By Fred Ott

On Thursday, September 10th, Fred Ott, past-CFMS President, surprised Dr. Richard (Dick) Hilton at his home in Meadow Vista, California with the announcement that he had been selected as one of only two individuals in 2020 to be honored by the Federation's Scholarship Program. While the original intent was to recognize Dick in the presence of his fellow professors and other faculty members at Sierra College in Rocklin where Dick has taught for many years, the Covid19 pandemic dictated otherwise. Fred then presented Dick with the CFMS Federation's plaque in recognition of his many years of supporting the Earth Sciences.

Here is a brief biography:

Richard "Dick" Hilton is a professor emeritus of geology and paleontology at Sierra College in Rocklin, California. He has a Bachelors degree in Geology with a minor in Biology and a Masters degree in Earth Science from California

State University, Chico. He is also a paleontological consultant. He, along with many others, helped create the Sierra College Natural History Museum as well as build the extensive collections of vertebrate and invertebrate fossils housed at the Museum. Along with others, he helped design the numerous exhibits in the museum. He is a board member of the California State University Chico, Geoscience Board. He has published numerous scientific articles in the field of vertebrate paleontology and a book entitled, "Dinosaurs and other Mesozoic Reptiles of California," published by the University of California Press. He has led paleontological digs throughout the western United States. He has lived in Canada and Africa and he and his wife, Kristin, have led and participated in nature trips to many parts of South America, Africa, Australia, Tasmania, Alaska, Baja California, Galapagos, Ireland, Iceland, and Spitsbergen in the high Arctic. He is also an avid nature photographer.

As honoree, Dick will designate a college or university which will then select a qualified undergraduate who will receive a check from the Federation in the amount of $2,000 to help further their education in the Earth Sciences.

Congratulations, Dr. Hilton!

From CFMS Newsletter October 2020

Editor's Note: Many of us know Dick from his presentations at our Educational Meetings, and his work at Sierra College. No one is more deserving of this award!

Final Ruling Says Dinosaur Fossils are a Surface Right

Dueling Dinosaurs

UPDATE - The 9th Circuit Court of Appeals on June 17, 2020 upheld the earlier court decision, affirmed by the Montana Supreme Court, that dinosaur fossils are part of the surface state, and not the mineral rights. A key factor in the decision appears to be that the value of fossils are not in their mineral content, but rather in their cultural and historical significance. This decision affirms what most property rights proponents, and the Montana State Legislature, have advocated which is that dinosaur fossils should be part of the surface rights of real property, rather than the subsurface or mineral estate.

The Montana Supreme Court on Wednesday ruled that dinosaur fossils are surface rights and not minerals according to state law. The issue arose when dinosaur fossils dubbed the "Dueling Dinosaurs" were discovered on a Montana ranch, and have turned out to be worth millions of dollars. The mineral estate owners have sued the surface estate owners claiming ownership rights to the fossils.

The concern for property owners is that owners of sub-surface or mineral rights, which is the dominant estate in Montana, could exercise those rights and disrupt surface use and property value. This means that mineral right owners could excavate for fossils, or be entitled to the value of any fossils discovered on land in Montana. Dinosaur fossils are abundant in parts of Montana, and the designation of fossils as mineral or surface rights could have significant impact on property rights.
